

THE HERALD.

JNO. P. HARRITT, - - - EDITOR.
CICERO T. SUTTON, - - - ASSOCIATE EDITOR.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1881.

GERMAN is to be taught in the public schools of Indiana.

GEN. UPTON, author of Upton's Military Tactics, committed suicide in San Francisco last week.

CAPE GEO. S. DAVIDSON, the man who fired the first gun at the first battle of Bull Run, died last week in Virginia.

The five chief cities of Kentucky have a population of 198,830, and a bonded indebtedness of $10,321,500, or $51.91 per capita.

"MAJOR" HICKS, the negro who murdered Henry Williams a few months ago, was sentenced to death in Covington last Saturday.

A BILL has passed the Ohio Legislature prohibiting the sale of liquors in that State on Sunday except in beer gardens. Quaker legislation this.

It is said that the State revenue is being paid in by the Sheriffs and other officers more promptly than for twenty years before, and that it is more closely collected than ever.

GEN. GRANT has resigned his position as President of the World's Fair Commission and will soon leave for Mexico to look after the interests of the proposed Inter-oceanic Ship Canal.

The trichinized pork scare which caused the banishment of American pork from French markets and almost the same in the English, has subsided and now Cincinnati and Chicago breathe freely.

The Socialists of this country have been holding meetings of congratulation on the death of the late CAR. He is denominated by them as having been one of the worst of tyrants and as deserving the fate which he met.

It is thought that there will be an extra session of Congress, if indeed, it has not already been determined on by the President and his advisers. This is an evil from which we should be glad to see the country delivered, but it comes let it come. We can stand it.

ROYALTY and royal officers all over Europe are trembling with fears for their lives. Some Fenian Nihilists tried last week to blow up the residence of the Lord Mayor of London with a forty pound box of powder with a fuse attached, but a policeman found it and cut the fuse.

The Court of Appeals has decided that a great many of the titles to lands in the east and southeastern portions of the State are wholly worthless and the people of those parts are very much exercised over the probable loss of their homes. Land speculators are thick as "trees in the woods."

The funniest thing in the present Congress came to pass a few days since. Senator Mahone, in casting his first vote, instead of voting with the Republicans as he intended, voted with the Democrats. The look of consternation on the face of the Republican big guns was laughable in the extreme. Mahone was called out, however, and told of his stupid blunder, when he had it rectified.

BEFORE us is the first number of the much-talked-of Republican paper, published at Hopkinsville, the Republican. In appearance it is neat, and in reading matter is fully up to the average. We are not going to say "if it were only Democratic," for we have no such thoughts, and more, the Republicans of this portion of the State need an organ, and besides, if the youngster becomes belligerent it will afford some of its near neighbors something in the way of employment.

A LADY of Henderson, Mrs. Delano, in a fit of insanity left her room a few nights since with no clothing but a thin cloak and walked four miles through woods and fields to the residence of a Mr. Hill where she arrived in a terribly mutilated condition. She was taken back to the city and placed in the care of friends. The Reporter does not know what steps the authorities will take in regard to the disposition to be made of the unfortunate lady.

The Nihilist leader in New York, Joseph Schwab, told a Times reporter that Gould and Vanderbilt were in imminent danger of being destroyed by the same means by which the late unfortunate CAR lost his life. It sounds strange to hear one American citizen thus threatened by another, and it is quite certain that these foreign scums had better keep cool and let their infernal plans die out. The majesty of the law must not be insulted in this manner.

THE Republicans claim that they have the organization of the Senate in their own hands, but from the way we look at it it may be quite different. It is true that in common cases the Vice-President has the casting vote when the Senate is equally divided, as it now is, but from what we know of the constitution it is different in this instance. It states that "The Vice-President of the United States shall be President of the Senate, but shall have no vote unless they be equally divided." And again: "The Senate shall choose their other officers," &c. Now, as the Vice-President is not a member of the Senate of course he cannot participate when the law says, "The Senate shall choose their other officers," and therefore we may look for a dead-lock and a bitter partisan fight. How it will terminate no one as yet seems to know, but we see no reason why, if the Democrats contend for their rights, they may not be successful.

A MEASURE looking to the impeachment of Gov. Churchill, of Arkansas, was voted down in the Legislature in Little Rock last week by a vote of 28 to 17.

HON. J. H. RUDY is a candidate for election to the Legislature from Davies county. R. M. Rodman is also a candidate. This makes four aspirants in the field.

At a fire in Paris, Bourbon county, Sunday morning, a stable with seven fine trotting horses was burned to the ground. The loss is unknown, but is certainly very great.

THE Communists and Socialists the world over have approved of the killing of the Czar of Russia, and regret that it did not include all other emperors, kings and potentates.

ONE of the girls in the Louisville High School is said to have kissed somebody, and the teachers are raising trouble with her and the other three hundred and fifty-nine.

KEEN RICHARDS, the noted horse-man died last week at home in Georgetown, Ky. He was known all over the world as a breeder of blooded horses. He made a trip to Arabia to procure the finest specimens possible.

JOHN B. SMITH, foreman of the mechanical department of the Louisville Commercial, died last Sunday of consumption. The papers speak in very high terms of his ability as a workman and his character as a gentleman.

It is thought that Bob Ingersoll inspired the President with the grand sentiment which created a Cabinet officer of Bob Lincoln. - Yonatan.

Bob Ingersoll didn't do any such thing. He don't believe in inspiration.

COL. A. G. HODGES, an old and prominent editor and publisher, and for many years an officer of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky Freemasons, died last Wednesday in Louisville of old age. He was well known by the Masons of the State, and his loss will be severely felt by the members of that order.

GEN. ELLI MURRAY, Governor of Utah, has been to Washington but has returned to Mormondom. The President gave him assurance of his hearty support in the trouble with the Western saints. We hope to see Murray come out of the struggle triumphantly and to see the twin relics erased from the face of earth.

THE colored Republicans of Cincinnati are kicking like mules because they were not recognized in the nominations for municipal offices. They have put an independent ticket in the field and say they intend to stand to their men. Thus do the Republicans treat their man and brother and thus does the man and brother rebel.

ANOTHER one of the sovereigns of Europe has passed away making two within a week. The last one is the king of Sweden, Oscar II, who died Monday, March 21. His reign began in 1872 and he is said to have been a very progressive monarch, devoting a great portion of his time to advancing the educational interests of his people.

THE case in the Court of Appeals of Commonwealth vs. Stevens, appealed from the Davies Circuit Court was tried last week, and the judgment of the lower court reversed. This is the Rough Creek navigation case that attracted so much attention and was a prominent feature in the judicial race last year. The court decides that the State is not liable to the Rough Creek Lock and Dam Company for any damages.

For reasons unknown to us Hopkinsville is fully up to the average. We are not going to say "if it were only Democratic," for we have no such thoughts, and more, the Republicans of this portion of the State need an organ, and besides, if the youngster becomes belligerent it will afford some of its near neighbors something in the way of employment.

A LADY of Henderson, Mrs. Delano, in a fit of insanity left her room a few nights since with no clothing but a thin cloak and walked four miles through woods and fields to the residence of a Mr. Hill where she arrived in a terribly mutilated condition. She was taken back to the city and placed in the care of friends. The Reporter does not know what steps the authorities will take in regard to the disposition to be made of the unfortunate lady.

THE Nihilist leader in New York, Joseph Schwab, told a Times reporter that Gould and Vanderbilt were in imminent danger of being destroyed by the same means by which the late unfortunate CAR lost his life. It sounds strange to hear one American citizen thus threatened by another, and it is quite certain that these foreign scums had better keep cool and let their infernal plans die out. The majesty of the law must not be insulted in this manner.

be no blame attached to Mr. Beck for urging that payment. Look before leaping in the future and avoid doing others the harm which may have been done to the honorable Senator from Kentucky.

The authoritative announcement from so high an authority, as the President of the Chicago Lumbermen's Exchange, that the entire pine forests of the country will be exhausted within the next twenty years, at the present rate of depletion, is indeed startling; but we presume, coming from so high an authority, the statement must be substantially true. And, being true, what splendid prospects of future value and wealth does it not hold out to all owners of desirable timber lands, prudent enough to retain and take care of them. The rate of depletion of the forests of the whole country, far from diminishing within the next decade, is likely to increase, as seen as yet scarcely extraordinary development within that period of the railroad, in manufacturing, and every other industrial interest, requiring an immense consumption of timber of the whole country. Our Kentucky owners and dealers in timber are still tugging away its vast stores of nearly valueless property, a part of which is even being sold at a loss. If properly appreciated, good timber lands, readily accessible to market in Kentucky or any other State, are today a most valuable property, a part of one's own. In less than ten, probably five years this will be plain to even the dullest observer. The mineral wealth of the country, as seen as yet scarcely disturbed, its former vast forest wealth already nearly gone. Every other species of vegetable growth is subject to decay and destruction. A single tree, or a forest of trees, which require centuries of growth to mature, once destroyed, will require other centuries to replace. A mere child with a single axe can, in a few minutes, undo the steady growth and work of long ages. Kentucky timber owners, make a careful study of the article. The lesson it conveys may, if learned and practiced to the preservation and proper appreciation of the even present value of your timber, be worth fortunes to thousands of its owners. - Yonatan.

Is the North American Review for April is a noteworthy article by Judge A. W. Tourgee, in which the professed reformers of the civil service are put on the defensive and their schemes of reform pronounced to be incompatible with American ideas of self-government, and on divers other grounds inadvisable and impracticable. The same number of the Review contains, under the fanciful title, "The Thing that Might Be," a profoundly philosophical study of the laws and conditions of human progress, by the Rev. Mark Pattison, Rector of Lincoln College, Oxford. The third article is a strong defense of the Roman Catholic side of the controversy about religion in the Public Schools, from the pen of Bishop McQuaid, of Rochester. The great problem of the governmental control of monopolies is discussed with reference to railway management, by the Hon. George Ticknor Curtis, who contends that when a railway company is incorporated by any State it agrees to this much and no more: that its property shall be subject to such legislative control as the act of incorporation embraces, to the exercise of the taxing and police powers of the State, and to the power of eminent domain. The same problem, in its bearing upon telegraph lines, is ably discussed by the Hon. W. M. Springer. Mr. John Fiske has an article on "The Historic Genesis of Protestantism," and Mr. Anthony Trollope, an essay on the poet Longfellow. Mr. Desire Charnay, the author of the series of papers on the ruined cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number of the Review nor the last preceding it contains any of his last series of papers on the ruins of the cities of Central America, has for more than two months been pursuing his researches in regions remote from all avenues of communication with the civilized world, and consequently neither the present number

THE HERALD.

LYCOURGUS BARRETT - LOCAL EDITOR
WEDNESDAY, MARCH 23, 1881.

OUR AGENTS.

The following persons are authorized to receive subscriptions and renewals, advertising in the HERALD, orders for job work, etc., etc.:
JOHN T. MARTIN, Rosine.
WILL COOPER, Cromwell.
DR. W. M. TAYLOR, McHenry.
JOHN W. MATHAN, Rockport.
DAVID ROGERS, Buford.
J. T. SMITH, Jr., Fordville.
A. S. ALL, Sulphur Springs.
R. P. MAGAN, Magan's.
GEO. M. ROWE, Cenado.
DR. G. R. SANDERS, Centertown.
J. M. T. NEAL, Caneyville.
T. J. BUSCH, Morgantown.
W. H. MURKELL, Beaver Dam.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

We are authorized to announce N. J. HARRIS, of Muhlenberg county, a candidate for the office of State Senator in this, the 21st Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Ohio, Muhlenberg and Butler, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Judge THOS. C. CARSON, of Butler county, a candidate for State Senator in this, the 21st Senatorial District, composed of the counties of Butler, Muhlenberg and Ohio, subject to the action of the Democratic party.

We are authorized to announce Judge VAN B. RAINE, a candidate to represent Ohio County in the next General Assembly of Kentucky, subject to a Democratic Convention, should one be called.

PERSONAL.

Mr. John C. Thomas is visiting relatives in Owensboro.

H. W. Lewis, of Rosine, was in town Sunday and Monday.

Prof. Herman Ludwig is visiting in Owensboro this week.

Rev. J. S. McDaniel held regular services at the M. E. church Sunday.

Miss Hester Johnson, of Pleasant Ridge, is visiting her sister, Mrs. J. P. Santerfer.

E. Small returned from the East last Saturday, where he had been to buy spring goods.

Our young friend, Clarence Hardwick, Circuit Clerk, was in Louisville several days last week.

Miss Nannie Alexander, daughter of Prof. Wayland Alexander, is visiting relatives in South Carrollton.

Rev. George Dennis, of Greenville, preached to an attentive audience at the M. E. Church Sunday night.

Dr. J. M. Berry, of Beaver Dam, is in the city to secure his license to practice medicine. - Messenger and Extra.

Dr. J. W. Church, deputy revenue collector, was in town several days last week, the guest of the Hartford House.

Mr. Geo. Klein returned last Saturday from Louisville, where he had been to purchase a stock of groceries and hardware.

Mrs. Mary Clark, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Alexander, for a week or ten days past, returned home Monday morning.

Miss Lizzie Walker, who has been visiting friends in Paris, Tenn., and Bowling Green, Ky., for several months past, returned home last Monday.

Capt. Wm. Dix, of Breckenridge county, was in town several days last week. He returned home last Saturday, accompanied by his daughter, Miss Lida, and son, Samuel, who have been attending Hartford College for several months past.

Thos. R. Ferguson, of South Carrollton, father of John B. Ferguson, who is a pupil of Hartford College, was in town Saturday and Sunday. We had the pleasure of a call from him while here, and also the pleasure of enrolling his name on our subscription book.

—More snow.
—Vernal equinox.
—Bring out your croquet.
—Days and nights are equal.
—For groceries and furniture go to Mrs. L. H. Eldon.
—The best coffee in town, 18 cents, at R. C. Hardwick's.
—Two new wagons on hand for sale at Greenwood & Wats'.

—For the best and cheapest groceries in town go to Mrs. L. H. Eldon.

—If you want to fill your will call at the saloon of J. Lou Hill.

—The latest novelty is the gent's "Buckskin" hats, at Anderson's Bazaar.

—All kinds of blacksmithing done at Greenwood & Wats' shop, near Whitesville.

—If you want pure Hines, Wilson, Old Bourbon or Monarch Whisky, go to R. C. Hardwick's.

—Greenwood & Wats' have connected with them Mr. M. C. Dowell, who is a first class wool workman.

—Will guarantee anything I sell you to be just as I represent it.

R. C. HARDWICK.

—D. K. Mason & Co., proprietors of the People's Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky., are the men to ship your tobacco to.

—Mr. W. A. McGill is still confined to his room with rheumatism. During his illness Mr. C. Carson will have charge of the gallery.

—Alexander's Hotel, Louisville, Ky., still holds the custom. It has a large patronage than any hotel in the city, the Louisville excepted. It is centrally located, fair good and charges low.

—The best A coffee-sugar for 12 cents, at R. C. Hardwick's.

—Will sell my stock of tableware, including silver, at R. C. Hardwick's.

—All kinds of repairing, such as wagons, luggies, plows, &c., at Greenwood & Wats'.

—A new stock of spring goods will be opened at Anderson's Bazaar next week. Await their arrival.

—Ship your tobacco to the People's Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky., if you wish to be treated right.

—Mr. E. H. Rowe, of Spring Lick, called on us last Monday and renewed his subscription to the HERALD.

—Sewing machine needles, all kinds and all sizes, are now on hand at 40 cents per dozen, at Anderson's Bazaar.

—A Sewing Machine for sale, good as new, at a bargain. Call at once on J. P. Barrett, HERALD office, 7-7-1f.

—Baker's Pain Panacea cures pain in man and beast. For use externally and internally.

—Dr. Roger's Vegetable Worm-Syrup instantly destroys worms and removes the secretions which cause them. 7-9-1y.

—Horse shoeing a specialty, and done at 50 cents, at Greenwood & Wats'. All other work done in same proportion.

—The lace remnants at Anderson's Bazaar can't be beat. The bunches run from 2 to 12 yards for 10 cents a bunch.

—The wife of W. J. French, living in the little bend of Green river, below Cromwell, died last Saturday night of puerperal fever.

—Mr. Joseph Shultz, aged about eighty years, who has been confined to his room since last fall with paralysis, is once more able to be out.

—A young horse belonging to Elijah Chinn, near Cool Spring, in this county, got its head fast in a crack of a log-barn and in trying to free itself broke its neck.

—Thousands have used Kendall's Spavin Cure for rheumatism and have experienced instant relief. See the advertisement.

—When you have got an old horse that has passed the market price, apply a bottle of Kendall's Spavin Cure and the result will be marvelous. Read the advertisement.

—When you go East on the P. & E. Railroad stop for supper at Cecilian. Mine host John Heller will treat you well. Coming West on that road you can get an excellent breakfast at the same place.

—The Standford hotel, Louisville, is the newest and nicest hotel in the place. Every room is a parlor, brussels carpet on every floor clear up to the roof. The furniture is elegant and the fare unequalled.

—One of the reliable establishments of Louisville is the jewelry house of C. P. Barnes & Bro. They handle none but good goods, have but one price, and that a fair compensation for their price.

—By energy and close attention to business and fair dealing they have built up a trade all over the South and West. They retain all their customers.

—A very pleasant evening was passed at the Hartford House last Friday. The occasion was that of a supper given to a few of the friends and acquaintances of Misses Maggie King and Nannie Alexander. After supper the evening was passed in music, song and social conversation. Among the guests present we mention the name of Miss Stone, of Madisonville.

—Mr. Harris, of Wisconsin, one of the inventors of the Harris & Smith non-explosive self-extinguishing lamp, called to see us yesterday. He showed us his lamp and explained its workings, which convinced us that it is all the inventors claim for it. It is next to impossible for him to have an accident by using this lamp. Mr. W. L. Rowe is bossing the sale of the lamp in this region of the world.

—Mrs. Rachel Dennis, widow of John Dennis, who lives near Cool Spring, in this county, is in her eightieth year and does a great part of her housework, being able to sew without the use of spectacles, and thinks nothing of walking a mile or two to visit a neighbor. She is a devout Christian, having been a member of the Methodist Church for very many years.

—We were honored last Saturday by a call from Mrs. Alice Kimbley and Misses Alberta Murray, Fidelia Hayden, Etta Montague and Mattie Fulkerson. These ladies seemed to know just what was needed to cheer a gang of printers, and so gave us the sunshine of their presence. Call again, ladies, as visits from our friends are always appreciated, and those of our lady friends especially.

—Mr. H. A. Anderson left at our office last Saturday a piece of kelp or other which was found on the farm of Horace Burton, Esq., near Whitesville, and also a petrified piece of hickory wood which had once been a landmark in the town of Whitesville. When that town was first laid out the wood was placed at the intersection of the streets and has since turned to stone.

—"A stitch in time is worth nine," therefore save time, money and trouble, and secure health, freedom and liberty from pain by using Crooke's "Never-Fail." These are certain results from the use of such a sure remedy. Therefore call on the agents and procure a bottle at only 25 cents, and use it, and you will be convinced of its superior virtues. For sale by Thomas & Kimbley, agents, Hartford, Ky.

—The Standford hotel, Louisville, is new throughout, and the most elegant furnished hotel in the city. It is connected by street cars with all the depots and steamboat landings, with all places of business and interest in Louisville. The table is not surpassed by any hotel in the city. Ladies and gentlemen from the line of the L. & N. P. & E. R. R. visiting the city to make purchases can have their packages sent to the hotel and thence taken to the cars free of charge.

—The wife of Wm. Rhodes, of Bartlett's precinct, died last Monday evening of consumption.

—We have had a trial of the French Golden Washine at our house and it proves to be all that is claimed for it by the proprietors and agents. It is simply splendid. It makes the clothes look so soft and new. We used it with hard water, too, and it did better than soft rain water with the best soap known to us, would have done. D. J. Rhoads, of Beaver Dam, is the agent. It is guaranteed to give satisfaction.

—The perfect system which the Louisville firm of J. Winter & Co., corner of Third and Market streets, Louisville, Ky., has in their way to carry on business, and the well-known honesty towards their customers are the reasons why the sensible men and women of our county purchase their men's, boys' and children's clothing there. If you don't know them personally go and introduce yourself and supply your wants.

—The dancing academy has greatly increased in popularity since our people have had a good opportunity to witness the skill of the excellent teacher, Miss Lucie Heironymous. Herself the most graceful and beautiful of dancers, she seems to possess a genius for imparting grace and skill to others. We have never seen one who possessed such talent and tact as a teacher of dancing. Her classes are growing rapidly and will continue to increase as long as she remains. - Hopkinsville News Era.

—Miss Heironymous taught a large class in dancing here about a year ago.

—Quite a destruction to sheep by dogs, just east of town, has been going on for several months past. On the farm of Dr. Griffin and brother, Fred, thirty-eight head of sheep have been killed and still the insatiable thirst of the wolf-like canine seems to be satisfied. Fourteen of these lean, lank curs have fallen victims to the contents of shot-guns, but still the wholesale butchery of sheep continues. It seems only a question as to whether we will have sheep or dogs in this county, and in this connection we will say that it seems that nothing short of a rigid dog law—one that will cause the owner of every dog to place a collar around his dog's neck, giving the name of the owner, and pay a tax of at least $2 per annum on the head of each dog, so many worthless curs running at large over the country seeking what they might devour.

Marriages.

BRIDE-BAITZ.—At the residence of the bride's father, Nicholas Baitz, Esq., by Rev. C. B. Phillips, Mr. G. W. Brito and Miss N. B. Baitz.

Marriage Licenses.

The matrimonial market is still dull, but we look forward to better times. The licenses since our last report are:
G. W. Brito to Narcissa B. Baitz.
John F. Wilson to Mary A. Baseheart.
Joseph P. Rogers to Mary E. Huddleston.

Religious Notice.

The Ministers' and Deacons' meeting of the Davies county Baptist Association will meet with the South Carrollton Church Tuesday after the third Sabbath in April, 1881, at 10 o'clock A. M.

B. F. SWINDLER, Secretary.

Calhoun, March 17.

The Willard Hotel Lottery.

As this scheme is presented in regular advertising columns it offers a very tempting array of prizes to be disposed of by lot 7th April next. This is authorized by law and is under the management of disinterested commissioners appointed by the Legislature of Kentucky. As the drawing takes place April 7th, parties desiring tickets will have to order at once.

—The Best in the Cheapest.

The Oliver Chilled Plow is the best and consequently the cheapest plow to be had. It has the lightest draught, and wears longer than any plow made. No time is lost carrying the plow to the shop to get sharpened or pointed. We furnish parties ready made and adjusted, at 40 cents each. Try the Oliver Chilled and save time and money and get better.

For sale by

Z. WAYNE GRIFFIN & BRO.

Beatty's Parlor Organs.

In today's issue we publish a large organ advertisement from the Hon. Daniel F. Beatty, the well-known organ maker of Washington, N. J. He now offers during the Spring season a beautiful 7 stop, 3 set golden-tongue reed organ for $85. Those who visit his factory at Washington, N. J., and select instruments in person, he offers to deduct $5 to pay traveling expenses. Read the advertisement.

To Accommodate the Public.

The proprietors of that immensely popular remedy, Kidney-Wort, in recognition of the claims of the public which has so liberally patronized them, have prepared a liquid preparation of that remedy for the special accommodation of those who for any reason dislike to prepare it for themselves. It is very concentrated, and as the dose is small, it is more easily taken by many. It has the same effectual action in all diseases of the kidneys, liver or bowels.

Tobacco Market.

At the close of the market last Saturday Messrs. Semonin, McGee & Co., of the Pike Tobacco Warehouse, Louisville, Ky., made the following report: Our market closed quite strong for all grades of Green river at an advance of 1 to 4 above last week. Dark, rich leaf in good demand at fair prices. Lugs sold at 31 to 41 cents.

Sales during the week..... 1,552
During same week for 1880..... 1,329
During same week for 1879..... 823
During same week for 1878..... 1,458
Sales during the year..... 15,013

Its Action is Sure and Safe.

The celebrated remedy, Kidney-Wort, can now be obtained in the usual dry vegetable form or in liquid form. It is put in the latter way for the especial convenience of those who cannot readily prepare it. It will be found very concentrated and will act with equal efficiency in either case. Be sure and read the new advertisement for particulars.

Butter Greenbackers.

The Greenbackers of Butler county met in convention in the courthouse in Morgantown, Ky., on Monday, the 14th day of March, 1881, and J. M. Cook was elected permanent chairman and Elwood Neal, Secretary.

On motion, the chairman appointed B. L. D. Guffy, J. A. Taylor, S. J. Taylor, Richard Jenkins and J. G. Maxey a committee on resolutions, which were unanimously adopted:

1st. Resolved, That we demand that the coinage of silver be made unlimited the same as gold, and we condemn all attempts to take away the legal tender power of the greenback money.

2d. We are opposed to funding the bonded debt of the government beyond the power of the government to pay at its option, and we demand that the surplus bonds of specie now in the treasury be paid out on the bonds falling due, and thus stop the interest.

3rd. We demand that all banks of issue be speedily abolished, and the government issue all the money—whether metallic or paper—in all cases should be full legal tender.

4th. We favor the restriction of all corporate bodies to the end that they shall not become monopolies—dangerous or destructive to the interest or liberties of the people.

5th. We endorse the call for a greenback Senatorial convention, to be held at Rochester, 9th of April next, and we appoint as delegates to said convention B. L. D. Guffy, Elwood Neal, F. Pendley, J. E. Shaver, J. D. Render, J. A. Runner, Thomas Vass, Sam Comer, J. A. L. Womack, L. B. Orange, A. J. Givens, L. C. Forgy, John Coleman, Dan Hunt, E. A. McCoy, J. L. Phelps, T. H. Gott, G. P. Taylor, W. J. Phelps, Leander Worley, Mal Embury, W. E. Hudson, Love Casey, W. B. Rose, J. A. Taylor, Press Whitaker, S. J. Taylor, Amos Belishes, Perry Brown and J. R. Brown, together with all voters of this county who intend hereafter to vote the National Greenback ticket.

6th. That we will give Melville Willis, the Greenback candidate for Legislature, nominated by the Greenbackers of Edmonson county, a cordial support.

7th. That the Hartford Herald and Greenville Echo, together with such papers as support our cause, be requested to publish the proceedings of this meeting.

Adjourned sine die.

J. M. COOK, Chairman.

ELWOOD NEAL, Secretary.

Centertown Chaps.

March 21st, 1881.

Editor Herald: If you will excuse my long silence, I will tell you all I know; it won't take long to do that.

Out sowing and plant-bud burning are about through with; not much done towards preparing for corn planting. Tobacco is nearly all sold at figures ranging from 3 to 5 cents, and a good portion of it delivered. Not much less than 100 lbs. of sugar and molasses besides a number of gallons of molasses by the several manufacturers at Walton's Creek this season.

Quite a number of cases of sickness in this part of the county this winter. Uncle Ward Williams has been confined to his bed most of the time all winter, suffering from a severe cold, then better for some days. L. M. Ashby, son-in-law of Uncle Ward, is at the house of the latter suffering an attack of pneumonia. John Williams, a still lingering with cold, and little hopes of recovery. Mrs. Phipps Rowe and Mrs. Doreas Tichenor are slowly recovering. S. W. Jones started yesterday for Leno, where he will purchase his spring and summer stock of goods. John E. White, with his family and J. W. Gray, left this place Tuesday last for Missouri, where he will purchase his spring and summer stock of goods. John E. White, with his family and J. W. Gray, left this place Tuesday last for Missouri, where he will purchase his spring and summer stock of goods.

Born.—To the wife of Willis Rowe a son. The first boy for Willis, and you bet he is proud. To the wife of J. M. Rowe, daughter, on the 15th inst. Jim is not so proud, for all his little ones are girls, and to the wife of Sam Morton, a son, still-born.

Alvin, youngest son of W. Phillips Rowe, and one of our cleverest and most sprightly young men, left us a week or two ago to take a position in his brother's store at Spring Lick. He predicts a bright future for Alvin. W. C. Rowe, after spending two weeks mixing with his many friends here, left for his home a week ago. Jake Ward, a well-known farmer, is convalescing. E. H. Rowe, of Spring Lick, is visiting his father's family. Mr. Harris, of Janesville, Wis., one of the proprietors of the "Never-Fail" medicine, is at the above place, spent several days with our lamp boys here, and left yesterday for Greenville. He is round, lively, sunny and quite a pleasant fellow. I tell you there is a heavy boom in that lamp business just now. Cass Morton, agent for Muhlenberg county, and Andy Williams are selling lamps right along in their respective counties. Others of our boys will embark in the same business soon, and we expect to hear good accounts of them too.

Uncle Walter Greenwood has sold his little farm near here to Wm. Bolton, and will move to your place some time in the near future. We are both glad to hear of it, as it is quite a pleasant change for him. The receipt given to J. Penfield Benton and bride by S. W. Rowe and lady, some time ago, was quite a pleasant affair and was attended by a large number of persons.

The people of this place and vicinity are anxious that somebody would erect a first class flouring mill, or a saw mill, or stove factory or something of that sort, in order to put some new life in our old community. Two Mr. Sams of your town gave us a call yesterday evening, visiting some of our young ladies.

Until something new occurs I must quit.

Steeple Hollow.

March 18, 1881.
Editor Herald: The farmers are done sowing oats and have sown a large crop. Wheat looks very bad.

Mrs. J. W. Stevens, who has been confined to her bed for some time with mumps, is now convalescing. Mrs. Isaac Shown is also getting well. Mr. Ladd Campbell and wife and S. M. Woodard visited Mrs. Helen Carson, of Owensboro, last week.

Died, near Beda, March 10th, of consumption, Mr. Wood Ashby. He leaves a wife and seven children to mourn his loss. Mr. Ashby was a good citizen and his loss will be felt in the community. He was buried in the Barnett's creek grave-yard. Mrs. Ashby will remove to Pinechew, near Cromwell.

Mr. Jno. W. Taylor's school at Mt. Washington closed on the 5th inst. Mr. D. T. Patterson and family left for Missouri on the 10th. I sincerely hope that they may meet with success in their new home. The neighborhood has lost one of its best members.

The men of Kinderhook met at Mr. J. T. Ward's recently to raise a house, and they raised it. G. B. Hocker was there and the way he led upstairs and things was a sin to Moses. He can out-build any two other men in the county.

John W. Bryant and J. O. Bean's call. Put Bryant to the front, Greenbackers, and he will make things lively. Mr. W. T. McSherry is still sick. Mr. Basil Hoover is occupying the house in which Mr. D. T. Patterson lived. We are glad to have him for a neighbor.

Mr. S. L. Baird has purchased a sulky plow to do his plowing this spring. Mr. B. is a business man. Mr. Walker Johnson, who started for Missouri sometime since has located in that county.

Rev. Geo. Dennis preached to a very large congregation on Sunday night last.

Tan Davis, of your town, will commence to paint the church at Beda on the 21st inst.

A. Tinsley, while running the other day, twisted his ankle out of place, which caused him a great deal of trouble and pain in getting about. It is better at this writing. I asked Clint Park for an item this morning, and he only told me that he had been to Owensboro to see his girl. We want another "Bit from Besh" and from "Lookout" soon.

Miss Lella Shown has just recovered from a severe attack of erysipelas. Aunt Charlotte Barnett has intermittent fever, and Aunt Nancy Park is sick, but I hope not dangerously.

Will Mr. H. C. Truman tell the school children that Nance Jane Jones has not got the measles, but is on her P's and Q's, and we all hope to see her out with curls flying as soon as the mud dries up so she can travel.

How to Become a Good Lawyer.

"Do you want to make a good lawyer?"
"Yes, sir."
"Well, now, listen. Be polite to old people, because they have cash. Be good to the boys, because they are growing up to a cash basis. Work in with reporters and get puffs. Go to church for the sake of example. Don't fool any time away on poetry, and don't even look at a girl until you can plead a case. If you can follow these instructions you will succeed; if you cannot, go and learn to be a doctor and kill your best friends."

Hair-Breadth Escapes.

Sometimes, when I look back over my life, I am amazed to see how the pages of its record are dotted with hair-breadth escapes. I escaped the dangers and hardships of the Revolutionary war by waiting until the war had been over about sixty years before I was born. When the Brooklyn theatre burned I was in Burlington. When the Yellow fever broke out in New Orleans I was in Minnesota, and immediately skipped out for Canada. When I was a boy at school one day all the boys in the school were flogged all around for robbing an apple orchard, and the flogging didn't do a bit of good. For every beggar of them had the children morose all that night just the same.

And I? I was attending another school twenty-three miles distant. When all my brothers and sisters were down with the scarlet fever, I was down South, in the army, and when I read the letter from home I laughed aloud to think of my great good fortune and that I would only have to be shot at once or twice a week instead of having to take medicine three times a day. When a man comes to the office with a little bill, nine times out of ten I am out. And if by some astonishing blunder, I am in, then indeed am I more unfortunate, but the man is in no better luck than before. - Burdett.

Of all feelings that move human life, none is more beautiful, none nobler, than that of gratitude. It stands first and embodies everything. To remember the kind act of a neighbor is to be always his debtor. No matter how many times we may serve him as kindly, if truly grateful, the account is never balanced; we are always on the debtor side. It is not only for the helping hand stretched to us in great extremity that the principle of gratitude declares itself, but for the numberless little things our friends and fellows do in all the days we live. We are dependent one upon another, and he is greatest among us who most clearly recognizes his obligation to mankind, and feels that sentiment which is best expressed by the term gratitude.

The most elevated plan of happiness is reached by a human being when he can say to the Recording Angel as did Alton Ben Adhem:

"Pray write me this.
As one who loves his fellow men."
To be grateful to our neighbors and our friends is essentially to love them, and to love them is to reach the highest standard which divinity has established for man. All that moral philosophy teaches is concentrated in this simple principle, for "God is love."

We can neither lead nor drive the world into an observance of the forms of gratitude by law, by example, or by other agencies, but to initiate is not to discover nor to originate. The conformist is sometimes far from holding the faith. He accepts but does not really believe. We must be thankful upon our own motion, not because it is made the fashion or because others are thankful, but because the principle is with us and it must bubble out of us. - Frankfort Youngman.

How to Secure Health.

It seems strange that any one will suffer from the many derangements brought on by an impure condition of the blood, when Seville's Sarsaparilla and Stillinger's Blood and Liver Syrup, will restore perfect health to the physical organization. It is indeed a strengthening syrup, pleasant to take, and has proven itself to be the best blood purifier ever discovered, effectually curing scrofula, syphilite disorders, weakness of the kidneys, erysipelas, malaria; all nervous disorders and debility, bilious complaints and all diseases indicating an impure condition of the blood, liver, kidneys, stomach, skin, etc. It corrects indigestion. A single bottle will prove to you its merits as a health-renewer, for it acts like a charm, especially when the complaint is of an exhaustive nature, having a tendency to lessen the natural vigor of the brain and nervous system. 7-9-1y

A Valuable Residence in Hartford for Sale.

A lot of six acres of ground with a two-story frame residence, containing seven rooms, a hall, back porch and two-story portico in front, good cellar, good well of water which never fails, a milk-house, hen-house, cow-house, buggy-house, stable, corn-crib, lasting water, a lot, a nice garden, and in fact everything in perfect order. It is the place now occupied by W. C. Chapman. It will be sold on reasonable terms.

This is a chance for the most desirable home in Hartford. For further particulars call at this office.

Strayed.

From the undersigned, in Hartford, about three months ago, a young red milk cow and sucking calf. Any one giving information in regard to the above cow and calf will be paid for their trouble.

F. M. HEVERIN.

Farm for Sale.

The W. C. Chapman farm, about four miles from Hartford

